

Motivating. Empowering. Equipping.

*Everyday Working Women, becoming better mothers,
daughters, sisters, wives,
neighbors, and friends.*

Dear Potential Volunteer,

My name is Tishawna D. Pritchett and I am the Founding Director of A Beautiful Lady Exploration Center, The A.B.L.E. Center. We are a nonprofit organization, with a goal to see the Everyday Working Woman: motivated, empowered, and equipped to be “A Better Me” physically, mentally, emotionally, spiritually, and socially for overall self-care. Our mission is to build positive character, strengthen confidence, magnify intelligence, and increase personal care and self esteem in "The Everyday Working Woman" so that more women are better mothers, daughters, sisters, wives, neighbors, and friends.

Our definition of The Everyday Working Woman (EWW) is a woman who desires to be better in one or more areas of her life, whether she is head of her household, a contributing member, retired, or a college student. The EWW is in need of support and dependable resources to allow her to sustain her responsibilities and well-being on a consistent basis. These women typically do not meet social services guidelines and are not considered at-risk for many other services because of various reasons, including their socio-economic level. The A.B.L.E. Center will meet the needs of the EWW, who desires to be better, through our solutions focused services and our reliable resources.

The A.B.L.E. Center is recruiting for volunteers; we are an organization led by individuals who strive to be Christ like. Individuals who want to see women of this world live life more abundantly while exceeding expectations. We are committed to serving with excellence.

If you are interested in supporting The A.B.L.E. Center, there are many ways to help. Would you like to share your time to help women rebuild and/or improve their conditions, meeting their needs through our mentorship or workshop programs? The A.B.L.E Center has a wide variety of volunteer opportunities that give you a chance to change a life. Opportunities at various skill levels exist for individuals, families and groups.
